

imperfecta presents "Oregon City Gothic"

A show featuring Italy/UK artist LittleSwimminMachine and her wondrous artdolls.

OREGON CITY, Ore. - March 22, 2024 - PRLog -- In May, Imperfecta presents "Oregon City Gothic" -- a solo show featuring artist LittleSwimminMachine.

The show showcases for the first time new, original, one of a kind art dolls that were inspired by Oregon City's architecture, legends, and historical events. The show debuts on May 11 with an opening reception from 5 to 7pm with wine tasting by Corcilla Cellars, and the exhibit continues till May 31.

The artist creatively describes the art show as follows:

"I'd like to start with what this is not", said the artist. "A chronical and accurate, historical series of events. But I'd love to talk about what it is." She smiled before continuing: "A couple known for their hospitality and generous support of the community, a gift, a tragic event, a legend, a historical building. A place, Oregon City." The artist nodded. "And of course art dolls. Art dolls that are whispering, suggesting, inspiring. And me, listening and trying to make them come alive and share their own vision."

LittleSwimminMachine is the art name of Francesca Loi, an Italian artist based in London UK that specializes in art dolls made with paper clay, antique lace, buttons, insignias, collected seashells, heirlooms, sari silk ribbons, vintage French laces, textural fabrics and other found treasures. Her highly collectable artworks are part of collections in diverse countries.

Woman-owned Imperfecta is Oregon City's Art & Design Gallery and specializes on elevating women artists and minority creatives.
